MAMBRINO PATCHEN 58.

Patchen Wilton.

(4-year-old trial 2:21 1-2.)

By WILTON 2:19½, sire of 103 with records from 2:06 to 2:30. The Wiltons are not only trotters and racehorses, but the greatest road horses in the world.

As a producer of dams Mambrino Patchen is without an equal. He sired the dams of Alexona, Alcantara, Baron Wilkes, Gipsy Wilkes, Boy, and many others. Ralph Wilkes 2:28½, and over 150 with records in 2:30 and better. Mambrino Patchen's sons sire 4 of the dams of Crescens, the world's champion trotter, and the Abbot, the champion trotting gelding.
2d dam, Emma, record 2:35, made in 1865, to high wheel sulky weighing 96 lbs., dam of Jerry 2:27½.

PATCHEN WILTON is a coal black horse, and for beauty, grace and action he is without a peer in Kentucky. With the rise of horse shows and road driving nowadays, the horse with plenty of good looks, action, soundness and speed, is the one that brings the fancy price. All of these virtues are combined in PATCHEN WILTON, and this is backed by the most fashionable breeding in the books. His sire is one of the greatest sons of George Wilkes, his dam a great producing daughter of Mambrino Patchen, his second dam a great race mare in her day and a producer.

Dress Reform.

Once upon a time a certain woman, who had been much pestered by a dress reformer, was shot at by a frenzied suitor, and was saved from an untimely death by her corset, which deflected the bullet.

"Aha!" she exclaimed, turning triumphantly upon the dress reformer. "If I had quit wearing corsets, as you advised me, I should be dead now!"

"Oh, no!" replied the dress reformer, with perfect serenity. "Women who don't wear corsets don't have frenzied suitors, you know!"—Town Topics.

Curiosity Satisfied.

The soldier in the weather-beaten uniform stepped up to the register of the only hotel in Skedunk and wrote his name:

"Philip Philipson, B. A., Manila, P. I."

"Excuse me askin' you, mister," said the curious Skedunker that was looking over his shoulder as he wrote, "but would you mind tellin' me what the 'B. A.' stands for?"

"Not at all," genially replied the soldier. "It stands for Benevolent Assimilator, if anybody should ask you."—Chicago Tribune.

The Light That Failed.

They sat on the couch. He gazed on her with love beaming from his eyes, while her orbs flashed back an effulgence that rivaled the electric light.

"You are—you are—" he breathed, rather at a loss for words of affection, "you are the light of my life!"

She gave him a look of alarm, and then whispered softly in his ear:

"Take care my father does not put you out!"—N. Y. Herald.

Finesse.

A somewhat little girl
Had a very little curl;
But it's nothing more than just to her to state
That she divers measures took.

Whereby she made it look
To casual inspection, something great.

NOT OVERANXIOUS.

Mamma—Come, let's go inside and read the beautiful story in your little Sunday-school book.

"I don't want to; I'd rather stay here."

Mamma—Now, don't you want to hear the story about Heaven—the beautiful place where we all will go? Don't you want to know all about Heaven?"

"Oh, no, mamma; I'd rather be surprised."—N. Y. Times.

Things as They Are.

The leopard cannot change its spots,
Nor can the fool amend his ways.
But neither sits with gloomy thoughts
On that account, through dismal days;
The leopard's glad it has its spots,
The fool's enchanted with his ways.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

Misanthropic.

"It is a blessing," said the patriot, "to live under a system which makes imprisonment for debt impossible."
"I don't know about that," answered Mr. Dunbrowne. "It might be some satisfaction to a man to feel that he was safely housed where his creditors couldn't get at him."—Washington Star.

Had Met Before.

Hostess—Miss Beautie, Mr. Good heart.
Mr. Goodheart—Miss Beautie and I have met before.

Miss Beautie—Why, so we have. I thought your face seemed familiar.
Mr. Goodheart—Yes, I am one of the men you accepted last summer.—N. Y. Weekly.

An Advantage of Armor.

"That mediaeval armor must have been very uncomfortable," said a visitor at the museum.

"Yes," answered the man with darned clothes; "but there was one satisfaction about it. A man could always take down a suit of it in entire confidence that the moths hadn't gotten into it."—Washington Star.

The Old Man at Home.

Tuener—Your daughter left word that I should call and repair your piano.

Mr. Binks—What's wrong with it?

Tuener—She says three strings are broken.

Mr. Binks (confidentially)—Say, here's a dollar. Break the rest of 'em.

At the Morning Service.

"Papa," whispered Johnny, as the contribution plate was passed around, "does the man that's playing the organ get this money?"

"O, no," replied his father. "Then what's he working so hard for?"—Chicago Tribune.

A Considerate Spouse.

Rich Old Husband—I admit that you come of a famous family, while I belong to the newly rich; but is that any reason why you should always be indirectly reminding folks of that fact?

Charming Young Wife—If? How? "You are forever talking about your ancestors."

"Really, my dear, you do me injustice. My reason for keeping people reminded of my great grandfather, is to make you seem younger by contrast."—N. Y. Weekly.

QUITE A DIFFERENCE.

Resented the Question.

Representative Williams, of Mississippi, has a new negro story. "Are you the defendant?" asked a man in the courtroom, speaking to an old negro.

"No, boss," was the reply. "I ain't done nothing to be called names like that. I've got a lawyer here who does the defending."

"Then who are you?"

"I'm the gentleman what stole the chickens."—Washington Post.

This Is So Sudden, Cholly.

Cholly—Do you think, Miss Clara—Clara (eagerly)—Why, yes—er—that is—

Cholly—That your sister cares enough for me—

Clara (frowning)—Why don't you ask her, and—

Cholly—To become my—

Clara (fiercely)—Wait a moment, I'll call her—

Cholly—Sister-in-law?

Clara—Oh!—Tit-Bits.

The Promoters.

"Let us make the capital stock $1,000,000,000," said the first promoter.

"All right," said the second, who was preparing the prospectus on the type-writer.

"Will it be hard to increase that capital?" asked the first.

"No, indeed. All I have to do is to hit this 0 key a few more times."—Baltimore American.

An Ideal.

And then, when food got dear,
I'd eat the branches off the tree,
And never feel a fear.

IN THE BUSINESS.

"Is he handsome?"

WIGGINS is a very handsome horse, with the best feet and legs I ever saw. He was a very high-class race horse. He won five straight races at 2 years old without losing a heat, defeating all the cracks of the year 1895. He trotted the last end of a mile, over a slow track, in 1:15 1-2, and could have gone faster. While it is saying a great deal, I assert that he is siring as much and as uniform speed as any stallion in Kentucky standing at any price. He had only four col
